

Making Mixed Race Matter

Newsletter Volunteers – could you assist in the preparation and publishing of a newsletter?

Our Newsletter is published in full colour twice a year, typically in spring and autumn. The newsletter is posted to members, contributors and interested parties in the UK. Bulletins are occasionally emailed to members.

Responsibilities:

Our volunteers source articles, images, research, reports and poetry on topics related to, and relevant for, mixed race matters. Topics and sources may be suggested by the editor; trustees or volunteers and can be written by volunteers.

Support:

All material sourced and written by volunteers are submitted to the editor for review. The editor and trustees are also able to help generate ideas or provide data if necessary.

Skills and experience needed:

- Research and writing skills
- An interest in mixed race issues and experiences,
- An ability to meet deadlines,
- To work virtually and independently as well as part of team.
- Knowledge of microsoft office programs preferred.

Benefits:

- Gain knowledge and experience of mixed race matters
- Experience skills in publishing
- Receive credit for your articles written and published in the newsletters
- Invited to attend relevant events.
- Credit in PIH's annual report

Time: Flexible. Deadlines must be observed.

Expenses: Reasonable out of pocket expenses can be reimbursed
